

K-Love radio is a great station; I listen to all of the time, with the exception of the occasional CD. I listen to 91.3 here in San Antonio and 106.3 out of Austin when I head up IH 35, to New Braunfels, San Marcos or Austin. My kids listen to the Christian music played by K-Love along with anyone that rides with me, in my personal or company vehicle. I support K-Love radio financially and with my opinion as to their need in the community, along with every other community that has the privilege to receive such wonderful music.

From my understanding, K-Love has met the FCC requirements of being listener supported and not selling advertisements or commercials to maintain their obligations to pay their monthly utility bills, employees, the rent or fee for usage of broadcasting towers, etc...

Take a listen to some of the other stations that have profanity in the lyrics of the music they play along with some of the comments that come from the DJ's themselves. The only reason I know about some of these other stations is I work part time in an automotive parts house for a while. The management usually picked the music that played on the radio and some of it I had to try really hard to ignore. There were times that every time I walked by the radio I would turn it down and sometimes off which would only give me a break from listening to that garbage for a short while. Also I had many customers complain about the lyrics along with the style of music.

Why is it that when there is something good, maybe not for everyone, but good for a lot of people, someone or some organization tries to make it go away. There is so much bad out there in this world that we live in and again, maybe not for everyone, but bad for a lot of people, and if someone or some organization tries to make it go away well we get into 1st Amendment rights and the bad, vulgar, and profanity gets to continue to flow over the airways and the cable that comes into our homes. Let the wholesome goodness of K-Love continue not for the few that dig into their pockets to help support this station but for the few that by chance may get to hear it, that may be touched by some lyrics, something one of the DJ's say, no telling what might touch them but as long as someone, somewhere is affected in a good way by this radio station, well this world we live in needs all the good we can put out because the bad is running ramped.

The FCC should take more of a stand against the bad that is being broadcasted, what is put over the airways along with the cable and broadband. I realize the 1st Amendment hinders what can be done in the way of the FCC cleans up all that is put out there. But please don't take the little that is good away and let the bad take completely over.
